As Mentioned In "Under Glass"

You, as a flower grower or greenhouse hobbyist, may well have difficulty buying desired varieties at retail, or must buy too many of one kind at wholesale; or are unable to find some items at any price.

Meanwhile, specialists are developing and improving the plant of their choice. They desire to win ribbons, and in striving for the perfect specimen grow many, many excellent plants, all but a few of which are surplus—and saleable.

In contrast to commercial growers, they have variety rather than volume. This, without commercial overhead, makes possible our unique feature of "one or more of each variety," at very reasonable prices.

This service provides an outlet for specialist growers and a convenient, economical source of supply for you.

IMPORTANT

Our PRICES INCLUDE PARCEL POST CHARGES to the Mississippi.
This expense averages 10% or more of the material cost and should be considered when comparing prices.

RECAP OF YOUR ORDER

Please tear out the pages from which you order and return with this cover sheet, which bears your name and address, in the business reply envelope.

I will send you a new catalog for future reference, when acknowledging your order.

Why Minimums?

It takes as much time, labor, and bookkeeping to handle an order for 2 items as 100 items. Therefore, every grower sets a minimum below which orders are shipped at a loss.

ACHIMENES

These are part way between African violets and gloxinias, of the same family. Have a wider color range than Africans, flowers smaller than gloxinias. Native of Central America and first reported from Jamaica in 1756. Common names are Cupid's Bower, Widow's Tears, Monkey-faced Pansies, etc., but let's go along with Ah-kim-e-nee from the Greek.

"Achimenes have especially beautiful clusters of horn-of-plenty shaped flowers in shades of white, rose, crimson, orange, blue, and purple, with eye of contrasting color."

In the sub-tropics they naturalize under trees, shrubs, and in shady nooks. The very small tubers are tender and form on the roots of the old plant which dies down in the Fall. Plant three tubers to a 4" pot in a saintpaulia soil mixture. Cultural directions sent with shipment.

Sold in units of 3 and 12. Minimum shipment $3. Postpaid.

For "Home Growers"

I believe these can be propagated from leaf cuttings like African violets. A couple blooming in a 3½" pot should be an unusual, and good, item bringing as much as Africans.

FANCY-LEAVED CALADIUMS

Handsome foliage plants from tropical America with arrowhead leaves flamboyantly colored; veined, marbled, or flecked; some transparent. Jack-in-the-pulpit type flowers.

You have seen the Candidum variety with large, translucent white, crepe-textured leaves in illustrations of modern interiors.

Some dealers have Candidum and Crimson Wave but the others are hard to get. An assortment makes an intriguing rotation of house plants; and is effective spotted around the summer patio, porch, and garden. Very useful material for arrangements.

Grown from tubers which can be carried over and multiplied.

Number You Want

- ... Crimson Wave—crimson with dark green border. Large crinkled transparent leaves.
- ... Hortulania—bright crimson-red leaves with bluish tint. Showy.
- ... John Peed—red center and veins; medium sized round leaves
- ... Lord Derby—transparent rose colored leaves with dark ribs and narrow green border.
- ... Madame Truall—deep purplish red with deeper colored ribs and bronze-green edges. Large leaves.
- ... Mrs. Nehrling—bronzy red shading to copper brown. Small pointed leaves on a dwarf plant. Unusual.
- ... Mrs. Munson—bright crimson, scarlet ribs with narrow green edge.
- ... Poecile Anglais—deep crimson bordered metal-green. Very fine.
- ... Reconcavo—center deep red with dark red veins and dark stem.
- ... Scarlet Pimpernelle—scarlet with straw-yellow margin. Large leaves.
- ... Red Ensign—bright metallic red with green margin.

EPIPHYLLUM (Orchid Cactus)

I am devoting much space to this beauty as it is well worthwhile. If you have not grown orchid cacti you have a delightful surprise in store.

The plant is a native of tropical jungles and grows in the humus lodged in the crotch of trees. Thus it is shade-loving and one of the best of potted house plants. It also does very well in hanging baskets and few plants excite more breathless admiration than a variety of epiphyllum cascading gorgeous color in the house, or around the summer porch and shaded patio.

You can expect six or more flowers on a two-year old plant. The exquisite blooms, with the fragile loveliness of the orchid, are from 2 to 10 inches across depending upon variety, and burst from large leathery leaves. Like the orchid they are long-lasting and excellent corsage material.

Unrooted cuttings ship well and root readily. While we cannot guarantee results we do guarantee large, strong, healthy cuttings from which you should get 100 percent rooting. The plant is long-lived and practically pest-free. Cultural directions accompany each shipment.

Orders will be filled as received, subject to prior sale. We will however, substitute the nearest equal or better variety if the supply of top-grade cuttings of a kind becomes exhausted. Please show one or two second choices.

We were fortunate in finding a specialist with this wide variety.

This specialist grower wrote me "The plants themselves are practically pest free. A little spraying for aphids on the flower buds may be necessary, but if ants are kept under control no aphids trouble is likely. I don't think one is apt to get more than six to eight blooms from a two-year plant. However, it depends on the care the plants receive. Some varieties are much more prolific than others."

ASTILBE

This is seldom seen in gardens, possibly because it is rarely grown from seed and the roots are not usually listed in catalogs. It is a hardy perennial from Japan with pleasing finely-cut foliage and those feathery plumes which are so effective in arrangements.

"Astilbe is a handsome item for midsummer bloom in the garden and blossoms year after year. Easy to grow in a sunny or partly shady location; benefits from lots of water. It is also a good greenhouse forcing subject for Christmas and Easter."

We offer clumps for garden planting this spring, and next summer will list the somewhat larger clumps for winter greenhouse forcing.

Number You Want

... Deutschland—a plummy white, attains a height of two feet. Splendid in borders blooming from late June through middle of July. It is also used for forcing, potted in December for Easter.

.... Gladstone—the famous white for forcing, plummy and compact but much shorter. Preferred by the florist as it makes a gorgeous show as a potted plant.

... Gloria Superba—a deep pink, somewhat taller, very vigorous blooms from middle of June to well into July. Very showy for landscape work.

... Bremen—a brilliant pink, gorgeous forcer. About 20 inches. Blooms in June and July.

... Queen Alexandra—light pink, popular as a cut flower. Tall and dense with compact blooms. Blooms in July.

... America—deep pink, 30 inches high, elegant cut flower and splendid for the border.

... Rhineland—deep crimson. Potted in October makes grand potted plant for Christmas.

... Bonn & Fanal—deep reds, medium height. Very effective in the border.
Also good for forcing.

UNUSUAL GERANIUMS

We think of geraniums as old-fashioned plants with trusses of red, pink, or white florets and attractive fuzzy green foliage. It was a revelation to me, and may be to you, to see the really surprising variety of geraniums (pelargoniums). These are not grown commercially as some are slow growers, others poor shippers, etc. But some have leaves as colorful as flowers, others have blooms resembling poinsettias, rosebuds, singles, doubles, Lady Washingtons. All are good house plants and a selection is an interesting conversation piece for guests.

I found a specialist with about two acres of them. Fortunately he will ship unrooted cuttings which is the cheapest way for you to start a collection. As they are sent by first-class mail all cuttings should root.

This grower gives one free cutting, his selection, with every ten purchased. The nearest equal or better variety will be substituted if the supply of top grade cuttings of a kind becomes exhausted.

For "Home Growers" this California grower has a Special on rooted cuttings of Skies of Italy and Happy Thoughts (probably the two most popular fancy leafed types) at $18.50 per hundred East of the Rockies, $17.50 West of the Rockies; parcel post prepaid; mixed if you wish; subject to prior sale.

I believe this is a good buy west of the Mississippi but the time in transit on parcel post shipments makes it a bit risky for the eastern states.

GLADIOLUS

I have an amateur specialist in gladioli with a trunk full of ribbons and no visible interest in money. I understand he took 17 of the 23 ribbons offered at the Boston show last year and is quite indifferent about whether I sell his corms or not. But he does a beautiful job of raising them.

Of course, he has all the equipment needed to grow them, to keep them thrip-free and healthy, and to properly store them. Fortunately for us, he also has a surplus of 10,000 large No. 1 size (1½") corms of these varieties:

Grow EXTRA DOLLARS ... at Home

A Concise Working Manual—52 pgs.—$2.00 Postpaid

YOUR ORDER

....copies "Grow Extra Dollars—At Home" at $2.00 each, postpaid $.....

The author, Ray Reynolds, has built a profitable sideline business growing plants at home for wholesale . . . while commuting to his regular city job.

From practical and successful experience he tells home gardeners how to procure or make the equipment needed, what to grow, how to plan production, how to price, where and how to sell . . . In short, exactly how to have a "profitable hobby and your own business."

"Covers both the business principles involved and the many operating details."
Flower Grower Magazine

"Terse and practical advice. Others who are considering such a project need to study a book such as this."

Dorothy Jenkins—New York Times

"Your splendid publication is terrific."

Phil Alampi—Television & Radio

"Very neat job packed with worthwhile information."

Clyde Combs—Better Homes & Gardens

"There is much in this small volume to make it valuable to anyone."

Organic Gardening Magazine

"Serves as an invaluable guide as it deals with information not found in the typical garden books."

Art Kozelka—Chicago "Tribune"
